Qualcomm is an exciting, dynamic and great place to work. You will be exposed to some of the most cutting-edge wireless technology, have the opportunity to make real contributions to your team and work side-by-side with truly gifted engineers. The environment is fast-paced but casual. Employees typically wear jeans or casual attire to work. Qualcomm provides many facilities that contribute to a healthy work/life balance such as fitness centers, cafeterias that provide reduced cost meals for those working late, volunteer opportunities in the community and after-work events to get to know fellow employees.
