UT Honor Code

- As a student of The University of Texas at Austin, I shall abide by the core values of the University and uphold academic integrity.

Academic Integrity

- At a minimum, you should complete any assignments, exams, and other scholastic endeavors with the utmost honesty, which requires you to:
- acknowledge the contributions of other sources to your scholastic efforts;
- complete your assignments independently unless expressly authorized to seek or obtain assistance in preparing them;
- follow instructions for assignments and exams, and observe the standards of your academic discipline; and
- avoid engaging in any form of academic dishonesty on behalf of yourself or another student.

UTCS Rules to Live By

- Every piece of work that you turn in with your name on it must be yours and yours alone unless explicitly allowed by an instructor in a particular class. Specifically, unless otherwise authorized by an instructor:
- Students may not discuss their work with anyone except the instructor and other members of the instructional staff (TA, Section Leader or Lab Proctor).
- Students may not acquire from any source (e.g., another student or an internet site) a partial or complete solution to a problem or project that has been assigned.

UTCS Rules to Live By

- You are responsible for complying with this policy in two ways:
- You must not turn in work that is not yours, except as expressly permitted by the instructor of each course.
- You must take all reasonable precautions to prevent your work from being stolen.

Each Class is Different

- Check course syllabus.
 - What if syllabus doesn't cover this or you are unclear about expectations?
- Many instructors use plagiarism detection software to check your submissions against others in the class and past classes.
- We know how to search the web too.
 - GitHub, Stackoverflow, Pastebin
