On the 5th class day, Monday, January 25th, the waitlists will no longer be active and the late add process will begin. For the Spring 2021 semester, the late add process will be conducted online via Qualtrics survey. Students can fill out the survey below to try and late add into a course. The survey will open up at 8:00am Monday, January 25th. Students may not access the survey before that time and date.

The survey will automatically time stamp each submission. We will continue to operate on a first-come, first-serve basis if space becomes available in courses. If a seat opens up in the course, we will attempt to add the first submission in the survey. We will continue the process until the course fills again or up until the 8th class day. Please note that it is up to the discretion of the professor to decide the last day that late add forms will be processed for their course, or if they will be processed at all.

You will be contacted via email if you were able to be added to a course. We will not give information about your position in the queue for courses, so do not ask.

Please keep in mind that the late add process does not guarantee a seat in the course, it is another opportunity for you to potentially be added if a seat opens up.
